Chairman's Pen

My dear fellow exporters,

EEPC India held its 26th INDEE at Casablanca, Morocco last week. It was successfully completed with 88 companies showcasing their products. In the meanwhile, Reserve Bank of India has made no changes with CRR and the lending rates as in their view the inflation rate is still in the danger zone.

Yours sincerely,

(AMAN CHADHA)

EEPC India Invites Participation for India Pavilion at INAPA 2013, Jakarta, Indonesia

( 26 – 29 March, 2013)

Indonesia and its Economy

Indonesia with 240 million of population is the largest economy in Southeast Asia and also one of the emerging market economies of the world. Indonesia is also the member of G-20 major economies. Domestic consumption is one of the major driving forces behind the country's economic growth. The economic growth slowed considerably during 2007-08. However, like India and China, Indonesia recorded higher growth during the global financial crisis, compared to the other G20 members with GDP 5.5% in 2009.

Indonesia's economy expanded a higher-than-expected 6.4% in the second quarter as robust domestic demand offset a decline in the international appetite for its exports.

The economic expansion came despite signs that the country's commodities exporters are being hit by the global slowdown. Indonesia's exports—which are dominated by natural resources such as coal, palm oil and tin—have been sliding as commodity prices slip and demand from places like China and India have slowed. Indonesia announced last week that it recorded its worst-ever trade gap in June as strong domestic demand boosted imports even as its exports fell.

Auto Market

Auto makers have just recorded their best month ever in Indonesia, selling more than 100,000 passenger cars in July, more than 15% they sold here a year earlier. Indonesia's increasingly affluent middle class was buying new cars.

Indonesia is the 3rd world largest consumers in motor vehicle after China and India. The auto market in Indonesia is still major market in ASEAN with the number of vehicle to reach 20 million units of cars and 50 million units of motorcycles. Indonesia has become centre of production for ASEAN market from several global automobile industries (Volkswagen, Hino, Geely, Toyota, Honda, Daihatsu, etc). Indonesia is predicted to be the largest production of cars in ASEAN by 2011 (about 1 million units of cars per year). Auto market of Indonesia always upbeat, based on police data in 2009 the number of registration of car ownership in Indonesia reached 7.900.407 units and 52.767.093 units of motorcycles but in 2010, vehicle growth in Indonesia has increased until 15% and it is a component of industrial development opportunities in Indonesia.
