Chairman's Pen

My dear fellow exporters,

I am glad to inform you that the Ministry of Commerce & Industry, Government of India has further provided benefits to 600 items including engineering items to boost India's engineering exports. I am also glad to inform you that India's engineering exports for the period April 2010 - January 2011 has touched US$ 45 billion which is growth of 70% over the same period in the last fiscal year. With these export benefits we hope that engineering exports will further increase and we shall be able to attain a target of US$ 220 billion of engineering exports by 2013 - 2014.

The copies of the Notification will be published in the Info Bulletin as and when these are released by the Government.

Yours sincerely,

Council's Activities

EEPC India Invites Participation for India Pavilion at Newcast 2011, Düsseldorf, Germany (28 June - 2 July, 2011)

The third NEWCAST exhibition will be taking place in Düsseldorf, Germany during 28th June – 2nd July 2011. This is the world's leading international trade fair for precision castings offering encouraging conditions for attracting new business.

EEPC INDIA is organizing an India Pavilion at this show. As an exhibitor, at this event you get the opportunity to meet the top decision-makers of the casting industry from all over the world, who are on the look-out for innovative "casting solutions" and sustainable "casting concepts". More than half of the trade fair visitors and users came to the NEWCAST in 2007 with firm intentions to invest in new business and technology. The NEWCAST has emerged as the most important platform to present highly innovative sustainable solutions in cast iron for all industrial growth markets. It offers high-caliber "business to business" encounters with International purchasers, users and industry leaders in attendance.

Focus Sector

The spectrum of focus ranges from vehicle manufacturing and the aerospace industry to machinery and plant technology and even as far as medical technology. For the sustainable, environmentally-friendly, low-CO₂ energy production of the future, casting products play a central role on the basis of innovative materials.

EEPC India Invites Participation for India Pavilion at AUTOMECH 2011, Sao Paulo, Brazil (12 - 16 April, 2011)

AUTOMECH - International Trade Fair for Auto Parts, Equipments and Services is the meeting point of the replacement industry, and a leader event in Latin America. At a single place, the market of automotive replacement presents at AUTOMECH innovations and solutions for the segment of parts, accessories and tuning, rebuilding and maintenance, IT and management.

AUTOMECH is the ideal platform to promote products and services to an important business generating pole; a great opportunity to present market trends; an excellent strategy to propel sales; to strengthen the image of trademarks, quality and services; to analyze your competitors and conquer new client; and to reinforce the relationship with qualified buyers and visitors from Brazil and abroad.

EEPC INDIA is organizing an India Pavilion at AUTOMECH 2011 which would provide an excellent opportunity for establishing business relationships with customers from all over the world, particularly Latin American countries. It is expected that 900 exhibitors will participate in the 2011 edition of AUTOMECH and 70,000 visitors from all over the world will converge in the show.

Automotive market in Brazil

Today, the Brazilian auto industry is a major driver of economic growth. The automotive industry makes a major contribution to the Brazilian economy, contributing 23.5% of industrial GDP and providing employment for more than 1.5 million workers. Strong domestic demand has largely insulated the sector against the downturn in global markets.

Brazil is becoming an emerging market leader for technology development because of its highly skilled and qualified engineers and relatively low labour costs compared to developed countries. Brazil has the largest number of car assembly plants in the world, manufacturing more than 30 brands.

There has also been a recent up-turn in automotive investments. Volkswagen has announced plans to spend $3.5 billion on up-grading their Brazilian plants and local product development capabilities by 2014, whilst Toyota have confirmed that they will build a second assembly plant at Sorocaba. Meanwhile, General Motor's $ 800 million "Project Viva" – financed from local profits and loans - foresees the local production of 9 new models by 2012. South Korean and Chinese manufacturers are also reportedly planning investments in new production facilities.

The Brazil auto parts industry is an unrecognized source of automotive components and whole cars. It will come to the surprise of many people that this South American country is the world's 8th largest supplier in the automotive industry. They have many state-of-the-art research and development laboratories where they engineer and design original, performance and aftermarket parts. In fact, the entire car can be engineered and built with auto parts from Brazil. Brazil exports many motor vehicles to the US, Germany, the UK, Argentina, Mexico and a growing number of other countries around the world. Brazil now faces the challenges of keeping pace with the expansion of the domestic vehicle market, and playing a more prominent role in global supply chains.

India currently ranks 26th among auto exporting countries, earning $ 5.5 bn a year with less than 1 per cent of the world auto exports market. India's export of auto components to Brazil has increased from US$ 53.96 Million in 2008 to US$ 66.18 Million in 2009 with a share less than one per cent of total auto components import by Brazil.

EEPC India Invites Participation for India Pavilion at Ferroforma 2011 Bilbao, Spain (23 – 26 March, 2011)

Ferroforma 2011, the International Hardware Exhibition in Spain will be held together with Bricoforma, the DIY and home related products. It is a biennial event and the 19th edition of the fair will be held at Bilbao Exhibition Centre, Bilbao, Spain. The International Hardware Exhibition brings together manufacturers, distributors and trade professionals that make up the supply chain of hardware products. In 2009 edition, the activities grouped under the “Ferroforma” brand represented 65% of the whole, while “Bricoforma” accounted for the remaining 35%.

The fair acts as a thriving meeting point and business networking avenue with a lot of parallel activities including private meetings, seminars and B2B meetings. The exhibition boasts of latest and innovative information and communication technologies including interactive tools such as online shop and catalogue and advanced exhibitor search services.

The fair is organized by Feria Internacional de Bilbao in partnership with Koelnmesse GmbH. Ferroforma has exhibitors from all areas of the hardware industrial supply and DIY sectors. Professionals from 69 countries visited Ferroforma in 2009 confirming its ranking as Europe’s most important in the segment. A total of 15,172 participants participated in the fair. A significant number of visitors to the fair were from Portugal, France, Germany, Italy and UK in the EU Region and Australia, New Zealand, Suriname and Yemen from the distant markets. The visitors in the fair were professionals, majority of them being purchasing managers and company managers. 65% of the exhibitors in the fair were from foreign origin and 19% were first time participants.

EEPC India is organizing an India Pavilion at Ferroforma 2011 which would provide an excellent opportunity for establishing business relationships with customers from all over the world.
