Concurrent Shows: 10th Edition NEPAL LAB THE LABORATORY EXPO · 12-13-14 February 2027

About the Exhibition

Nepal Medical Show is an established international exhibition dedicated to the medical, surgical, hospital, diagnostic and healthcare industries. The exhibition provides a specialised business platform for manufacturers, importers, distributors, healthcare professionals and institutional buyers to explore emerging technologies, exchange industry knowledge and establish business partnerships.

The exhibition brings together a comprehensive range of medical and healthcare products, including medical devices, surgical instruments, diagnostic equipment, hospital infrastructure, laboratory technologies, medical consumables and healthcare solutions.

The concurrent Healthcare Supply Chain Show further broadens the business scope by providing opportunities to connect with stakeholders involved in healthcare procurement, distribution, logistics, sourcing and supply-chain management. Together, these exhibitions offer Indian manufacturers an opportunity to showcase their products and technologies and explore business prospects in Nepal and the wider Himalayan region.
