

Catalogue Show at INDEE Vietnam 2013 (October 10-12, 2013)

EEPC India is holding its 27th Indian Engineering Exhibition (INDEE) in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam from 10 to 12 October, 2013. The show will be held along with Metalex Vietnam, the country's international exhibition on Machine Tools and Metalworking Solutions. India will be the Partner Country at Metalex Vietnam.

Metalex Vietnam, co-located with NEPCON Vietnam, brought over 500 leading technology providers from 25 countries in 2012. This is one of the most important exhibitions in the Southeast Asian region. NEPCON Vietnam is the country's only exhibition on SMT & Testing Technologies and Supporting Industries for Electronics Manufacturing where more than 200 leading global brands exhibit.

Why Vietnam?

Starting from a low economic base in the early 1990s, Vietnam's economy grew strongly and rapidly before it slowed down during the current global financial crisis. Vietnam's economy is already bouncing back to pre-crisis growth trends in 2011, and is expected to continue on this path. Vietnam has attracted many multinational corporations, including those that seek ways to diversify their operations away from China in their 'China plus One' manufacturing strategies. Vietnam's emergence as the destination of choice for global manufacturers of cars, electric and electronics, and industrial parts today is undeniable.

Vietnam is one of the few countries which is registering healthy growth in the import of engineering goods. While imports of engineering goods by Vietnam increased by 27% in 2011, India's exports increased by 38%. India's share, however, remains low at around 0.8 per cent.
