TRAINING PROGRAM ON

Exports and Imports Business in the new GST Era- Managing Change

13th July 2017, Shangri-La's Eros Hotel, New Delhi

As you are all aware the GST is finally in place. Along with all other businesses GST has impacted Exports and Imports in a substantial manner. Import duty calculations have been changed considerably. Exemptions on procurements for Exports, that was a norm, is suddenly not there. Most of the export benefits and incentives are directly affected. The government has been rushing to notify various consequent changes in rules and formats till the very last moment.

Foreign Trade Policy (FTP) of India and various schemes under it which helps exporters and Importers will need significant changes. Though the Government has deferred announcement of new FTP till September, but GST will affect all the ongoing schemes and benefits under them. Suppliers to certain projects that get the benefit of Deemed Exports will also be affected.

While there may be issues of cash flows and sudden changes, GST may overall and in the long-term help in simplifying the procedures and documentation and better neutralizing of input duties.

It is imperative for exporters and importers along with all other businesses to understand the changes and how it impacts them, as also how to manage the change.

In this background EEPC INDIA with SHARDUL AMARCHAND MANGALSDAS & ANDEES CONSULTING as Knowledge Partners is organizing a seminar cum workshop to apprise businesses of the new environment of Exports and Imports. The seminar will offer exporters a quick understanding of the new changes and interaction with experts and senior Government authorities to clarify their doubts.
